

Conversion Options for Health & Dental Benefits

If an employee is leaving a company, whether it is to join a new company, retire, lay off, or termination, they can convert every part of their group benefit plan to a personal one.

As long as the application is started within 30 days of your last day worked with the previous company, you are eligible. No questions asked.

If you, the employee, or any member of your family has health problems, this is a good opportunity to you to apply for coverage. Many plans have exclusions for pre-existing conditions when you apply for them without this option.

For employees who live in Alberta, Non-group coverage is a supplementary drug benefit program available to Albertans under 65 years. Alberta Blue Cross administers it on behalf of the Alberta government. Currently, more than 145,000 Albertans are enrolled in the program. People who do not have an employer or private plan often obtain non-group coverage. This program will continue to provide coverage for individuals with pre-existing conditions.
